DEATH

Claims Unusually Large Number of Persons.

Record for One Week in This Vicinity Probably Breaks the Record for Natural Deaths.

Mr. John Picklesimer.

Mr. John Picklesimer, whose critical illness has been noticed in previous issues of this paper, died at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been in the enjoyment of good health up to a month ago, when he suddenly began to decline. For more than two weeks before the end finally came his death was almost hourly expected. All his five living children, except his son, John Henry, of Franklin Furnace, O., were at his bedside when he died. This son had been here two weeks, but had been compelled to leave for home Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at the residence of Mr. Fred Picklesimer Friday morning at ten o'clock, after which the body will be interred in Pine Hill cemetery. The service at the house will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hanford, pastor of the deceased, and the Rev. Franklin Hardin, of the Baptist church.

The death of "Uncle John" Picklesimer marks the passing of one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of this community. He was born in Johnson county nearly 82 years ago and came to Lawrence county about the close of the Civil War, in which he served three years, as a member of the 14th Ky. Infantry. He moved from Muncyville to this place several years ago, where he was a well known figure until his death. Few men have died with a better reputation for sobriety, industry and integrity. For many years he had been a member of the M. E. Church, and he died fearless and confident in the faith of the Christian.

Mr. Picklesimer's surviving children are Mrs. Lucy Dameron, George, James and Fred Picklesimer, of this city, and John Henry Picklesimer, of Franklin Furnace, O. There are numerous grand and great grandchildren. The aged wife preceded her husband to the grave in September, 1909.

Rev. A. J. Soard.

The Rev. A. J. Soard died at his home in this city on Monday night last, after a short illness caused by pneumonia. It was known last week that he was sick, but few were aware of the fact that he was critically ill and the news of the death was quite a shock to all who knew him. The funeral occurred on Wednesday afternoon, with services conducted at the Christian church, conducted by the Rev. R. B. Neal, of Pikeville, and was largely attended. The body was interred in the Fulkerson cemetery. Mr. Soard was 49 years of age. He left a widow and six children to mourn the loss of a good husband and father.

Mr. Soard had not been a resident of Louisa very long, but by his quiet, godly life he had earned the respect and esteem of all who knew him. For a time he was pastor of the Christian church and did much to build up the church and the congregation. At the time of his death he was not in ministerial charge of any work. His death at a comparatively early age is a loss to his church and the cause of Christianity.

I. K. Berry Dead.

I. K. Berry, better known as "Dick" Berry, died at his home near Irad, this county, last Saturday, after a long and painful sickness caused by Bright's disease. The funeral and burial occurred on the following Monday, conducted by the Rev. William Copley. He was 61 years old and left a widow and four children. Mr. Moore's wife was a daughter of "Uncle" Sammy Moore, in his day one of the most popular and well known men in Lawrence county. And it is to be truthfully said of Dick Berry that he was equally and deservedly as popular. He was sober, honest, industrious, given to hospitality and good works. He kept "open house," and on Sundays, when there were numerous visitors and callers his cry of "dinner's ready" could be heard half a mile. He was, to use the language of one who knew him long and well, as good a man as was had in the county, and the passing of such men is a district loss.

Nonagenarian Dead.

John Higgins died at Snyersville, Jan. 18. He had been confined to his bed for over eight years. He was 90 years and two months old. He was a twin, his twin sister having died while quite young. Until eight years ago he was a very active business man, engaged in buying and selling live stock for more than 75 years. He attended the markets of Richmond, Va., in his early life, and later the markets of Cincinnati, Mt. Sterling, Owingsville, Winchester and other points, and perhaps had made as many acquaintances as any other man in this part of the state. He leaves a widow 77 years old, three sons, two daughters, 40 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, and scores of other relatives.

Mrs. Elias Dutton.

Mrs. Elias Dutton died at her home one mile below the mouth of Georges Creek, this county, Sunday night last, of the infirmities of extreme old age. The funeral occurred Tuesday, with interment near the home. Mrs. Dutton was the mother of Mrs. P. H. Vaughan, of this city, and her funeral was attended by Miss Belle Vaughan, Mrs. C. H. Bromley, Mrs. James Hatber and other Louisa relatives. Mrs. Vaughan was kept at home by reason of personal illness.

Mrs. Dutton was born not far from the place of her death 86 years ago, and had always resided at the old home place. She had been married three times and is survived by her last husband.

Little Child Dead.

On Saturday last a little child of Mat. Rowe, of Fort Gny, died after a short illness caused by pneumonia. It was about 8 months old and was buried in Fairview cemetery.

Widow of John Miller.

The widow of John Miller died near Torchlight Wednesday, at a very old age. She lived with her son, who moved there from Martin county a few years ago.

Death of a Correspondent.

The News regrets to hear of the death of Willie Reynolds, its Meigs Branch correspondent. He was an estimable young man, and his untimely demise is much lamented.

Death of Two-Year-Old Child.

W. H. Rice's child, age two years, died at Buchanan Wednesday. It was a grandchild of Rev. R. F. Rice.

Postmistress for Prestonsburg.

Bele Plannery has been appointed postmistress at Prestonsburg, Floyd county. The office was made presidential January 1, 1911.

LAWRENCE COUNTY BOY

Comes Near Winning in Contest at State University.

The Union Literary Society of State University, Lexington, recently held a declamatory contest in the University Chapel in which there were several contestants. Among them was Herbert Holbrook Moore, of this county. Those who heard Mr. Moore speak during the anniversary meeting of the Lawrence County Sunday School Association will not be surprised to hear that he won second place and honorable mention from the President of the University, but they are surprised that the first honor and medal were not bestowed upon him. President Barker congratulated Mr. Moore and predicted for him a career of which Kentucky would be proud. One could see from the published account of the occasion that in theme and delivery Mr. Moore fell but little short of the winner. His friends may justly feel proud of him.

UNIQUE EXERCISES

At M. E. Church South Last Sunday in Honor of Mr. Burns.

The hour for the morning service last Sunday at the M. E. Church, South, was given up to the reception of new members and to somewhat unique exercises relating to the recent retirement of Judge R. T. Burns from the Board of Stewards and the Board of Trustees of the church.

Resolutions prepared by a committee appointed by the quarterly conference were read, expressing the deep regret of the church over the withdrawal of Mr. Burns from active participation in the business affairs of the organization. The pastor, Rev. W. L. Reid, spoke appropriately and with much feeling on the subject and Mr. Burns responded in his own impressive and fitting manner.

While the attention of the audience was centered upon these proceedings a fine chair was carried into the rear of the church and set in Mr. Burns' favorite place near the heater. At the conclusion of the address Mr. Burns was escorted to the new chair and it was presented to him with the compliments of the Sunday school, of which he was Superintendent for thirty-five years. The present was a complete and pleasant surprise to Mr. Burns.

Mr. Burns is in his 78th year. He was a steward for more than half a century, a trustee for over forty years, and Superintendent of the Sunday school for 35 years. He has now given over to younger men these honorable offices, but everybody is glad to know that he is yet active enough to be present and take part in most of the services, and that the prospects are good for many years of such association and help from him.

A BOY KILLED.

Son of Wm. Sprenger of Ashland, Run Down by Engine.

On Saturday last the morning train from this place to Ashland struck a boy near the underground crossing at the upper end of the city and killed him almost instantly. The lad, who was about 13 years old, was walking eastward on the ends of the ties, with his head down as though watching his steps on the ties, and did not see the train until too late. The boy was the son of William Sprenger, an Ashland policeman, and formerly a C. and O. and O. fireman. He was firing for Bolivar Wesley when the accident occurred near Graves Shoals several years ago when the engine went through a trestle and both men were nearly killed. Oddly and sadly enough the engine which struck the Sprenger boy Saturday was driven by Mr. Wesley.

ANOTHER GAS WELL.

Word was received today by stockholders in the Belvard Oil & Gas Company to the effect that the company's eighth well has been brought in with the biggest gas flow in the field struck in the big time. The flow is very heavy and the well cannot be drilled further. The well is in Wayne county at the head of Miller Fork.—Huntington Advertiser.

BIG MORTGAGE.

A forty million dollar mortgage has been recorded in Pike county from the Consolidated Coal & Coke Company in favor of a New York syndicate to secure the necessary funds for the development of the Consolidated's property on Upper Elkhorn.

Hon. W. W. Marcum was made floor leader at the senatorial caucus held at Charleston Wednesday night, by the Chilton forces. And to him is given much of the credit for Chilton's nomination. Mr. Marcum is serving on several of the important committees of the House. Wayne county should be proud of her representatives.

Lower Greasy Postoffice Robbed.

The Ashland Independent says: A stranger giving his name as Frank Anderson, was arrested on suspicion—or, rather, on a loitering charge—by the local police one night last week and locked up in the city jail.

Owing to the fact that a quantity of postage stamps of various denominations, were found on his person, he was believed to have been connected with a postoffice robbery somewhere. Saturday he confessed to City Attorney C. R. Levi that he had robbed the postoffice at Lower Greasy, Johnson-co. The postal authorities were at once notified, and Monday afternoon Inspector Geo. R. Hill, of Cincinnati, came here and interviewed Anderson. The prisoner said he was from Norton, Va., and that he and John Jones, of Lindell, Va., robbed the Lower Greasy office one week ago Saturday night.

Inspector Hill took the stamps, and went to Lower Greasy last evening, returning here today, and reported that Anderson's story was correct, and he was unquestionably guilty, verifying his confession. Mr. Hill left today, but will return shortly to take Anderson away for trial in Federal court.

Head Carried Fifty Miles.

The tragic death of Boyd Patterson, an engineer on the Norfolk and Western railroad, that occurred at Kenova some time Thursday night, of last week, was one of the most sickening affairs of the kind that has occurred in this section.

It is now believed that he wandered around and sat down on the track when he was run over by an engine attached to a train and literally ground to pieces. The different members of his body were found scattered along the railroad for many yards, the trunk of the body having been stripped of all its members, including the head, which was carried 50 miles on the pilot of the engine before it was discovered.

Sam Doc is All Right.

Sam Dock Smith, who was a caller at this office last Monday, informed us that he had just gotten out from a confinement of several weeks on account of a severe case of blood poisoning. He was troubled with an ingrowing toenail and used a penknife that had not been sterilized in prying the sore toe. In a few hours after using the knife his toe began swelling and it required the aid of two physicians to save his life. He is all right now, however.—Ceredo Advance.

Sale of Real Estate.

On Wednesday last John Garlin sold to Wayne Osborn the house and lot known as the Sara Bartram property, located near the college building. The consideration was one thousand dollars. Mr. Osborn is attending the K. N. C. and will take possession of his purchase at once.

TRIBUTE TO AN ORATOR.

Complimentary Words for Rev. Frederick F. Shannon.

The News takes pleasure in reproducing from the Brooklyn Eagle the following tribute to the oratory of one born and reared among our people:

Editor The Brooklyn Daily Eagle:

In the published accounts of the trustees annual dinner held in Plymouth Church on Thursday of last week one of the happiest events of the evening was overlooked. Owing to the present interest in the matter of subways not even the scholarly address of Professor Raymond on the Panama Canal was allowed to infringe upon space given to Mr. McAdoo's brilliant document. But the speech which will probably linger longest in the memory of those present was the twenty minutes address of the Rev. Frederick F. Shannon pastor of Grace Methodist Church, on the Park Slope. I have been for some years familiar with this young clergyman's sermons through The Eagle's sermons pages. Even in their printed form they have a power of vision, a beauty of diction rarely equaled. But like most of those at the Plymouth dinner, I had never heard the man himself.

It was almost 11 P. M. when Dr. Hilly introduced Mr. Shannon. The people had already sat for five hours most of them were weary and many of them had a considerable homeward journey yet to make. Naturally, under the circumstances, they would have been willing to forego the pleasure of listening to most after-dinner speakers at that hour. But the young minister had not been on his feet a minute before all sense of weariness was forgotten, those who had started home blocked the doorways and the entire audience was fused in unbroken attention.

Soon the attention found expression in bursts of laughter as the speaker illustrated his thought by an unbackneyed story. Having established perfect relations with his audience, he said: "Though I was cradled among the far-away hills of eastern Kentucky, from childhood Plymouth Church has been to me a kind of Westminster Abbey—and yet not a place in which the great dead slept, but where the mighty living wrought and taught." As these words, voiced in tones of beauty and pathos, were spoken we who were used to fine sayings in Plymouth Church, knew that we were listening to a declaration equal to the finest. Then came a story, "Ladies and gentlemen, I feel like an unmusical goose among slaying swans. (Rings of laughter.) But, even thus, there is consolation in the thought that the goose's foolishness is always offset by the swans' melody. (Laughter.) When the great Archbishop Taft handed over an unkind vituperative letter to his private secretary for answer he said: 'Tell him he is a donkey, but do so kindly.' So, Mr. Townmaster, my own 'donkenity' may abound here tonight, but that will only give scope for your magnanimity to abound more exceedingly." (Prolonged laughter and applause.)

Then the speaker launched into a history of Plymouth Church, its world-wide fame, its patriotism, its commanding force in the country's religious, intellectual and civic life. "I do not need to say to you," he declared, "that Plymouth is unique among the Christian societies of the world. This is a commonplace you have heard many times. But it is a commonplace, I think, which glows with a golden significance when one pauses to consider its origin and vitality. For example, we go to St. Peter's because we want to see Michael Angelo dressed up in stone. We go to St. Paul's to see Sir Christopher Wren in a similar garb. But nobody ever came to Plymouth merely to enjoy an architectural holiday." As this last sentence fell from the orator's lips peal on peal of laughter rolled from one end of the building to the other.

I have barely blated a few sayings and those imperfectly reproduced, of one of the whitest, most eloquent addresses I have ever heard, and delivered, too, under the most trying circumstances. The speaker's tribute to Plymouth's greatest laymen—living or dead—his description of his frequent walks to Mr. Beecher's grave on Dawa Path, in Greenwood, the recounting of his friendship with Dr. Willis, extending over a period of several years; the manner in which he expressed his personal gratitude to Plymouth's great pastor, voicing, as he believed, the debt of a multitude no man could number—all these things cannot be put down on paper. But I feel that, in justice to a great occasion crowned by a truly remarkable address, these things ought to be said through your readers' forum. That a great and useful career awaits M. Shanaea is the conviction of all who attended the Plymouth dinner.

OLD PLYMOUTHITE.

Brooklyn, Jan. 23, 1911.

The Orpheans.

The News feels confident that its readers who received their paper early Thursday evening did not fail to attend the fine entertainment given by the Orphean Musical Club. So perfectly balanced and attractive an organization has not visited Louisa before. The excellent and high class variety offered is as rare as it is attractive. A melodious brass quartet, four splendid voices, a cartoonist and a fine impersonator, all in one aggregation is a combination deserving a capacity house, and a big house at that.

Smoking Causes Blindness.

A few days ago a young chap in the ladies' waiting room at the depot was filling the apartment with the smoke and smell of a cheap cigarette. Several ladies were present, one or two of them with small children in their laps. The doors were closed and the air was stifling. The smoker must have been blind, for directly in front of him, in letters three inches long, was a notice that smoking in that room was forbidden. Poor chap!

The will of Mrs. Alla E. Land, probated at Mt. Sterling, names her sons, Edward and Benjamin Land, as executors without bond. Sterling; her grandson, Henry Peters, of this county, and the children of her deceased son, William Land. All of the personal property and household goods must be equally divided among the persons named and nothing must be sold. The estate is worth about $10,000.—Bath County World.

OWHIA TAGOO SIAM.

Mr. Neal, in his breezy talk to the K. N. C. pupils a few nights ago, gave the boys a new yell. In case of failure to make high grades because of too many trips to depot, postoffice and other places of resort this "yell," spoken real fast, will be appropriate.

THE GREGORY.

The towboat Gregory, Capt. Pryor, now doing work at Salt Peter and Chapman, was built at Jeffersonville, Ind., under the supervision of Inspector Kennedy, of Louisa.

It is doing work like this that helps keep country newspapers poor."

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bonds, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivalled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c, at A. M. Hughes.

THE HOBBLE SKIRT.

The hobble skirt is to be followed this spring by the "Harem skirt," a bloomer outfit like the ladies of Turkish harems wear. It is merely a pair of baggy trousers with the legs rolled up at the bottom, in some instances. The division of the skirt is low enough to act as a hobble.

A Harem-scarem sort of an affair.

A Good Example

"I am a good example," writes Mrs. R. L. Bell, of McAlester, Okla., "of what Cardui will do for suffering women."

"I suffered with my head and back, for over six years, and although I tried everything, I never could get anything to do me any good, until I began to take Cardui."

"Cardui has surely helped me and built me up and I am so thankful that I have found something that will do me good. I feel so much stronger and better than I have in a long time."

It is well to make up your mind before you are sick what medicine you will take when you are sick.

Take CARDUI

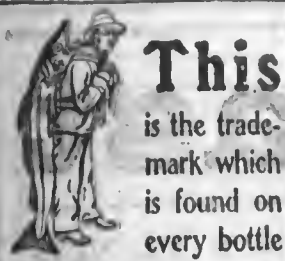

The Woman's Tonic

You will be glad to take it when you are tired, miserable and when life seems a weary grind. It will put new thoughts into your head, fresh courage into your mind.

If not sick now, at least burn Cardui on to the pages of your memory, so that when you are sick you will ask for it without thinking.

If sick or weak, get a bottle today. At all druggists.

The Mt. Sterling Advocate hosts the name of Judson Harmon for President.

In our abundant riches there is some embarrassment.

To be mean enough to accept a bribe and fool enough to tell it seem to be necessary qualifications for a legislator in some sections of West Virginia.

Hon. W. J. Fields does not intend to idle away any time while in Washington. He has entered as a student in a law school in that city and will give his spare time to the study of the Blackstone.

The West Virginia Legislature rejected the Sulloway and Chilton on Wednesday of this week to remove all doubt of the legality of their titles. The warring State Senators compromised by making Dr. H. D. Hatfield President of the body and dividing the other offices of the Senate.

Representative Macon, of Arkansas announced that he would in all probability object to Caleb Powers taking the oath of office as a member of the next House. He has prepared a resolution to have Mr. Powers' eligibility referred to a special committee. The resolution is based on the Roberts proceedings in the Senate.

The House of Representatives passed the Sulloway general pension bill which grants pensions ranging from $12 to $36 a month to all soldiers who served 90 days in the U. S. Army in the Civil War or sixty in the Mexican war and who have reached the age of 62 years. This bill adds about $45,000,000 a year to the pension roll.

Mrs. Laura Franksworth Schenk wife of John O. Schenk, whom she was charged with attempting to poison, was released on her own recognizance by Judge Jordan in the Criminal Court at Wheeling, W. Va., the ball being left at $10,000. A few minutes before she was served with papers in a divorce action by her husband.

It is a very noticeable fact that the "holier-than-thou" members of Legislatures and other bodies are never heard from anywhere except in the ranks of the losing side of a contest. When their side wins by the same methods their opponents use, these fellows keep still. Everybody knows this to be a fact, and therefore the h. t. t. never wins the amount of plaudits from the great common people that he expects. Father Hubbard, of West Virginia, is in this class.

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Louisa.

Scores of Louisa people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

J. B. Peters, Lock St., Louisa, Ky. says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done more for me than all the other kidney remedies I have ever taken. I was in constant misery from kidney complaint. If I sat down for five or ten minutes and then attempted to get up, it seemed as if a heavy weight were tied to my back and at such times sharp pains darted through my kidneys. When I stooped, rheumatic twinges radiated throughout my body, being particularly severe in my knees, hips and joints. The kidney secretions were sometimes profuse, then again there was almost a complete retention. I also noticed that the kidney secretions scalded in passage and contained sediment. When almost discouraged, I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and the contents of three boxes made me feel like a different man. I shall be glad to corroborate every word of this statement to anyone who calls upon me."

Mr. Peters gave the above account of his experience with Doan's Kidney Pills in January, 1908 and when interviewed on June 21, 1909, he said: "The statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills last year, still holds good. You are welcome to continue its publication."

VAN LEAR.

This is an ideal camp. Hundreds of houses have been hurriedly built and many more are under construction. Four operations are in active development, and several others to be opened soon further up Millers creek. Grade work and tippie construction are now being pushed. The velu of coal at those openings is about seven feet thick, of excellent quality.

F. H. King, our store manager, has removed his goods from company's old store house into the large and magnificent commissary building recently completed. This store building has all the modern equipments and appliances to facilitate business.

S. J. Jobe has accepted a position as clerk in the company store. The mines here run full time and pay semi-monthly.

Rev. Sexton was killed in number two mine last week by falling slate. The mine foreman and his fellow workmen has repeated warned him of the impending danger, however he neglected to timber the hanging slate, which resulted in his tragic death. This tragic death list would greatly decrease if men would be more cautious about properly timbering up dangerous roof in the mines.

Fred, Silas and John Jobe are here engaged in car building and carpenter work.

Land Mercum is tippie man at mine number three.

Frank Clark is blacksmith at mine number four.

W. A. Chaffin, of Irad, is tippie foreman, also his brother Noah has employment in the car shop.

Geo. Murray and wife left here for Louisa, recently.

Everette Hitchcock, store clerk, is representing the Prudential Ins. Co.

Silas Jobe went to Louisa and Osie last Sunday on a brief visit.

Van Lear has no saloons, blind tigers or boot leggers, consequently we have a peaceable and moral society. Sunday school every Sunday morning largely attended.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, recently presented a list of $5,700 in claims due Eastern Kentuckians from the Government. The money was awarded as damages by the Federal Courts for land inundated and the judgments were affirmed by the Supreme Court. The judgments are Lucinda Grizard, $1,500; Lizzie Sewall, $4,000; Cora Welch, $200.

A tragedy that occurred near the Breaks of Sandy, last Wednesday, resulted in the death of one of the children of John Colter and the miraculous escape of another, when a monster boulder weighing hundreds of tons broke loose from where it had lain for a century, perhaps, on the mountainside above Colter's home, roaring down into the valley, tore away almost one-half of the Colter cabin, crushing a bed that stood in one corner, killing one of two children asleep in it and throwing the other across the room slightly bruising it.

The escape of the one child was a miracle as the bed was torn to pieces and scattered along in the path of the mighty rock. Colter and his wife who were asleep in the other end of the cabin, were thrown out of their bed by the shock and awoke paralyzed with fear, in the darkness. After a while a light was secured and the sorrowful tale of the disaster lay written before their eyes in the mangled body of their seven year old daughter. The other child was unconscious but the injuries were slight. —Pineville Herald.

The Facts About Pe-ru-na.

Is Peruna an alcoholic beverage in disguise? Is it possible to use Peruna as a substitute for whiskey? Do people buy Peruna and use it as a toddy, or a bitter, or a bracer?

It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate the falsity of such statements. Let any one go to the drug store and purchase a bottle of Peruna. Let him undertake to use it as a beverage, or take this remedy in doses considerably larger than those prescribed on the bottle. Would the result be alcoholic intoxication? Nothing of the sort. Let any one try it and see.

Peruna is a medical compound quite heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients. If taken in doses larger than prescribed it would produce a positive drug effect. No one could take it as a beverage. If any one doubts these statements, try it and see. We know that Peruna cannot be used as a beverage; that it will not intoxicate; that it cannot be used as a substitute for liquors. We guarantee that PERUNA CONTAINS NO CHEAP WHISKEY—OR ANY OTHER WHISKEY, for that matter.

It contains a small per cent. of cologne spirits, absolutely essential to dissolve and hold in solution medicinal ingredients, but the drugs contained in Peruna prohibit its use as a beverage. It would be the easiest thing in the world for any one to demonstrate this if they chose to do so.

Peruna is sold everywhere. THE INGREDIENTS ARE PLAINLY PRINTED ON EACH BOTTLE. It has been said over and over again that chemists have analyzed Peruna and found it to contain only cubebs and whiskey. Now we challenge any chemist to demonstrate any such statement. Let any one who has even a smattering knowledge of chemistry purchase a bottle of Peruna and see whether or not it contains whiskey, find out for himself whether or not it is composed of cheap whiskey and cubebs. Of course, cubebs is one of the ingredients of Peruna, but there are many other ingredients. It contains hydnastis canadensis, corydalis formosa, collinsonia, and at least four other medicinal ingredients. To be sure, no chemist could so analyze Peruna as to be able to identify the various medicinal ingredients. This is beyond the ability of any chemist. But any ordinary chemist would be able to say that Peruna is heavily loaded with medicinal ingredients of some kind in addition to cubebs.

Now why are these statements repeated when their falsity could be so easily demonstrated? Simply because there is continued hostility toward Peruna on the part of the medical profession. Very likely the magazines which took up the crusade against Peruna and denounced it as a cheap beverage were misled by statements of the medical profession. Probably they were sincere in their attitude towards it. But now, after all these things have been said and refuted, it would seem to be in order for such people to use a little fairness and common sense in the matter.

Every time any one says that Peruna is nothing but cheap whiskey and cubebs he is telling a lie, an absolute falsehood. Most people intend to speak the truth. But the prevalent habit of repeating other people's statements, without investigation as to their truth, has led many well-meaning people to say these false things about Peruna.

Used according to the directions on the bottle, PERUNA IS A SAFE AND RELIABLE CATARRH REMEDY, but, like any other good medicine, if taken in excess of those doses, it will produce drug effects very unpleasant to the person who takes it.

It is therefore up to every honest person to quit making such statements concerning Peruna, or acknowledge that he is repeating slanders about which he knows nothing. One might just as well say that Castor Oil is an intoxicant; that if taken in large enough doses it will operate as a "booze." If people never tried to see, but simply repeated such statements about Castor Oil, the majority of people would come to believe them. It is no easier to demonstrate such a statement about Castor Oil than it would be about Peruna.

Any one who takes Peruna knows that such statements are false. To say that Peruna is cheap whiskey and cubebs may constitute good material for jokes on the vaudeville stage, but there is no excuse for any one who pretends to be truthful saying over again this oft-repeated falsehood.
